Executive Review

Spending the ultimate 4 months on GBPL has been one of the greatest practical learning experiences for me. A fresh graduate like me is one of the luckiest graduates on earth who now has an understanding of the operations of the largest ICT distributor of the country. The working environments along with the staff guided me through this amazing journey and helped me realize what is leading about my future. I become to work for our Commercial and Corporate Marketing Department in alliance including E-Commerce and Corporate Center.

There were numerous responsibilities that I had to take on. These include but not limited to maintaining social media, regularly investigating customer’s daily reports, and product stock management; manage database and provide logistic assistance. I possess earned this permission to pick also determine which products directions be practiced onboard by GBPL Online Shop. The staff here was extremely pleasant to work with and was from the diverse culture of Bangladesh. This internship helped me realize that practical experience not only teaches us but also makes us efficient and improve the quality of our performance. My experience remained pleasant and an education as time goes on. However, I still have a lot to learn and working here will help me thrive in every challenging situation of my future career.

Introduction

The rationale of the study

This study was proposed due to its relevancy to my area of interest and major and also because of its part of course (INT 4399). I have been a full-time employee of GBPL, working as the Digital Marketing, Corporate Centre and E-Commerce manager. I communicate straight to my line manager, the E-commerce, Sale & Marketing Executive along with the Business Development Manager of Enterprise & Corporate Head of E-Commerce Dept. I perceive a chance to learn the classifications of work including becoming the practice to work with a group and favorably capable to employ my hypothetical knowledge. Whenever I'm working beside an organization as a student at United International University, the company makes a preface regarding the University. As well as knowledge gained from this 3 months lengthy program I can employ to my real-life workplace, digital society and ICT market. The main policy of the program is to present the students to the acknowledged circumstances.

Objectives of the report

Broad Objective

- To understand further regarding that role of E-Commerce Managing how that works for Global Brand Pvt. Ltd.

General Objectives

- To provide an idea of my activities in this position and learning’s from this internship
- To understand more regarding the E-Commerce activities of Global Brand.
- Conclusively, to deliver credentials based upon my experience.

Methodology

This research remains based on subsequent references that include articles and reports published by GBPL as well as other research papers.
Scope and limitation of the Study

As I must perform on the Internship paper at United International University because of the opening of my internship I should try to gather appropriate information concerning my report. Though, I met some dilemma because Global Brand owns its systems as assistants. According to the system, I possessed limitations to do any from that data. Therefore, any data's I arranged through the manager’s assistance also sometimes I displeased to manage whereas the data hold confidential. During preparing the paper dilemmas moreover, the limitation has confronted which remain essentially arises-

➢ Limited access to information as temporary employees
➢ Employees were busy and weren't always available to help me with information.
➢ I ought to depend upon subsequent data during that paper.
➢ This duration regarding the internship lasted not long enough.

Literature review

Each way groups approaching their customers are changing over time. There are two ways to reach customers. One is product-based and the other one is called a customer-based approach. The customer-based approach is more popular nowadays and is emphasized by the organizations because it helps them retain the customer as well as gain new clients. This approach helps an organization in meeting its short-term as well as lengthy-term goals. (Chen and Popovich, 2003).

Developing a buyer-focused business model that maximizes lengthy-term organizational profitability including buyer power remains one principal aspiration of CRM (Zablah et al, 2004; Shah et al, 2006; Chen and Popovich, 2003).

A market can manage its clients distinctly plus uniquely with some CRM system (Bose, 2002). Businesses have developed various applications and practices that help them maintain good relations including their clients. (Campbell, 2003) Inside organizational circumstances obliged to stay connected also developed to achieve these plans (Keramati et al, 2010; Zablah et al, 2004; Lindgreen et al, 2006).
Any business enjoys more valid potentials to target also productive clients, included presents, and changed retailing communications, more loyal client relations and enhanced advantage (Richard and Jones, 2008; KO Et Al, 2008).

Two advantages arise from good client relationship management. First, it helps the company understand its market and why a purchase was made. Second, it helps the organization become more efficient and effective in marketing and selling its products and maximizing overall profitability. Despite, raising individual productivity concerning businesses including retailing appears no issue on itself only by a strong client-oriented process design including method advancement (Mäntyneva, 2001).

C R M based business models have also helped companies to stay in competition in highly competitive markets as well as expanding market segments. (Richard and Jones, 2008).

Lengthy-term client reliability including maintenance of existing customers can only do improved through more generous assisting those clients. (Chen and Popovich, 2003; Chang, 2007)
Section 03

Projects Initiated

1. Achieving Medias: While operating as a Corporate Center and E-Commerce at Global Brand Private Limited, I have been managing all of Global Brand’s Social Medias where I fulfill all the queries of social media customers or clients' need. The social media are:

   - Facebook Page
   - Google Plus
   - Google My Business
   - Instagram
   - Youtube
   - Twitter
   - Pinterest
   - Tumblr

2. Daily reports compilation: After completing all the working during my office time I ensure to my line manager and the Business Development Manager. After regular updating the reports about daily sales, customer’s query to drive.

3. Review Problems: Review website regularly for identifying the mistakes then report that result to the GBPL Website Team to improve the user experience.

4. SEO: To provide a better experience of the users’ search moment, I had to work on Wordpress and make the best content to do Search Engine Optimization.

5. Analyzing product: Global Brand Pvt. Ltd is one of the biggest distributors in the IT sector. Most of the existing shops in the market buy products from us at retail price. We provide them with a selling price at which they should sell their product. My supervisor has to inspect the market besides his job duty. I go along with him and inspect as well if our customers doing their job properly or not.
6. Checking product stock: While customers look for any product, I check out our current stock report to provide them with the correct information. First of all, I check the stock list by putting the particular product name with its model into the information box, search the product if it's available or not then I give the feedback to the customer.

7. Customer's data management: In our database, we have each customer or client's data. If there is any new customer, I ensure the data correctly input to the software.

8. Customer Call: Global Brand has the highest number of customers. Every customer’s query received through software and refers to them as per their query.

9. Logistics Support: Regularly update the entire customer's data of e-commerce to logistics software.

10. Point of Sales Materials (POSM) Requirement analysis, stock and distribution: The Point of Sales Materials remains required to be stored in the partner vents to assure brand clarity and data to target clients. The requirements of POSM are marked through the sources including the ideas are delivered to the merchants as production also distribution. Following that, I require the sources to encourage the vents to control the closing outcomes including proper arrangements. Each complete decision is later given to the management team.
Difficulties including Recommended Plan regarding Work to Increase Perceived within this Business:

- Some administrators and employees remain usually technologically stimulated. Maintaining some sources from the warehouse by who I nevermore associated face to face was impressive.
- Some balancing from logistics help, the need for administration including customer or client’s demand is usually difficult to catch in point.
- Some release from these dedicated messages on these inherent associates is usually limited due to confidence in cross-functional organizations.

Academic Preparation

- While this becomes signified an induction on each full-time work, that didn't desirable to assemble by one article building at the weekend.
- During those close registries from managers, client’s connection including area interviews, that remained difficult concerning me to explain my paper including my important internship superintendent

Important Learning’s of This Internship Curriculum Entanglements to the Organization

- Of that pretty inception from my work, I could build one strong place inside my department, For example, I became that opportunity to run 3 sources in my 1st week from the work. Following that step, constantly soon I continue maintaining total social media and directly communicate with the brand’s product manager regarding the job
- I developed fascinating internal stages, designed different recording setups, built online-offline database systems which initiated that method softer.
Relationships over the University's Internship Curriculum

- I discovered whereby to describe my real-life events can continue impersonated based upon that experience I assumed during my educational career, relish choices respectively also started amidst decent articles
- Multitasking becomes remained an essential phase to remark during the course. Considering these workloads like corporate development including the tendency to reach that deadline from article obedience showed me essential teaching.

Conclusion

Global Brand Private Limited Online Shop is a great initiative which emphasizes on a customer-oriented business model which is more profitable. Several factors that play an important role in ICT have been discussed throughout this report. Based on my report and experience I have come to conclude that e-commerce is can be profitable only if the associated online services exist to help the customers. Careful maintenance of this program along with related online services can create brand loyalty, raise profitability and last but not least create a positive and satisfactory experience for the customers.
