1.1 Foundation of the Report

The completion of internship program is an integral part of the Bachelors Program as it serves the causes of practical direction in the related area. I was blessed enough that I could do my internship from BRAC Bank Limited on Human Resource Department, one of the most successful commercial bank in Bangladesh which provided me an opportunity to generate a real life experience with banking sector. All the way through the report I made an effort to find out the actual process of recruiting and selecting process of BBL. And I have tried my best to make the report more informative.

1.2 Objective of the report

There are two broad objectives behind making this report, those are

I. Broad objective

II. Narrow objective

Broad objective

The main purpose of the report is to tell about the BRAC Bank-

- Recruitment process of BRAC Bank LTD.

Narrow objective

- To know about the History of BBL
- Its product and services
- To have a clear view about how HR department is doing their work
- To accumulate all the information about the recruitment and selection system
- To experience the recruitment and selection function that BBL is practice
- To relate the practical knowledge with theoretical knowledge
- Duty of an intern
1.3 Methodology

To make this report more informative I need to go through a process that is identifying, analyzing, and collecting data from various sources, in a word it can be said that I have been through a systematic procedure of making a report.

Sources of data

The data is collected both from primary and secondary sources.

Primary Sources

- Personal observation and experience
- Taken opinion from officials and co-workers

Secondary Sources

- Internet- Various Websites related to BRAC Bank
- Text book
- Guideline from some other report

By the help of text book, internet, personal observation and help of supervisors I have collected both type of data for preparing this report.

1.4 Limitation of the Report

- Lacking of information source

Though the has been based on primary and secondary information but getting proper and latest secondary information is difficult and there is no updated version website of BRAC bank from where I could learn about the departments specially human resource but information of its history and products.

➢ Privacy of management

Primary data is very confidential for officers and authority so that it was difficult to collect raw information.

➢ Busy Work Life

I have to work there on a tight schedule and heavy work load

➢ Physical Condition

Last but not the least, unfortunately my first and foremost obstacle was my road accident and fractures for that reason I have to take three month bed rest which pulled me three months behind for that reason everything was posed and need to do a restart.

The HR department (HRD) of BRAC Bank is one of the largest in the industry. Comparing with other commercial banks BRAC bank has the largest number of work force, so they have larger management team. HRD is one of the fundamental parts of the organization support. And it is so organized that BRAC bank is managing their large number of employees centrally.

This Department is maintaining some management strategy and Divisions comprises of

3.2.1 Recruitment, Compensation and Benefit

3.2.2 Learning and Development

3.2.3 HR Operations

3.2.4 Payroll and HIRS (Human Resource information system)
Internal Recruitment

This is for those people who are already working in the organization; the HR people publish the circular on notice board and online portal to invite the deserving employees to participate in the interview via they can also upgrade their position level and avail their career growth. In this case, employees refer their resume personally and sometimes by their internal communication portal.

External Recruitment

From other organization/company/institute or fresh graduate people this process is applicable, step by step selection and recruitment process is shown and after described here-

!Recruitment and selection process chart

Creating a pool of CV

The flow of recruitment starts with the vacancy of particular positions and by giving news on newspaper and online like BD jobs.com and so on. Before the information of any position that going to be empty comes from departments and this information is taken by a recruitment team officer.

The recruitment officers collect and stores hard copies as well as maintains the database regularly. The recruitment officers organize potential CV’s so that they can use these at the time of hiring.
CV’s are chosen based on good academic result, work experience and sometimes reference. And then the shortlisted candidates are called for exams and interviews.

In case of large number of candidates invitation letters are mailed and messaged to the candidates email address and mobile phone. These are done according to the interview and exam time schedule before contacting the candidates.

Written Exam

After collecting CV the procedure begins with exam. The examination question paper is made upon

1. Mathematics
2. General knowledge
3. English
4. Analytical ability
5. Write up (Translation of sentence)

The mark distribution of each section is 10 and total is 50. Passing marks is 30.

The candidates need to be passed by getting specific marks. After cross checking the copies the shortlisted interviewers are called for interview.

Interview

- Now, at this time we directly call on their personal number and inform them about their interview and tell them to bring necessary documents like- photocopies of all academic certificates, NID, one copy of passport size picture. At the mean time recruitment officer print out the candidates CV and give those to the interviewee.

- At the day of interview, about 170 people comes and we provide them a form to fill which contains their personal history, address and all.
A score card is given to the interviewee to right the status of the candidates that is selected or not and at the end of interview they signed it and recruitment officer collect it.

Usually, there are some steps of conducting an effective interview, these are:

1. Make sure you know the job
2. Structure the interview
3. Get organized
4. Take notes
5. Close the interview
6. Review the interview

And I think the BRAC Bank’s interviewee’s are smart enough to conduct a successful interview whether directly or indirectly practicing these factors.

Generally, there is two or more interviewee in an interview board and they ask several questions to the interviewer/candidate to measure their knowledge.

At the end of the session, with a number of selected candidates HR people precede for our next activities which are mentioned earlier-input data (candidate’s information), Creating appointment letter, offer letter, call them for joining and so on.

Screening and Selecting/Short listing

- After conducting a successful interview session another shortlisted people around 100 or110
- Candidates are given joining package and an instruction is given that time that how to fulfill those joining package. This joining package includes some personal and professional history from, a bond, a medical slip and an account opening file. And suggest them to do a pre-emplacement health checkup at a certain medical center and the reports directly come at head office.

- After that HR people input their information’s for next steps.

Input Information

- The HR Operation Divisional people enter the candidate’s data and made appointment letter and offer letter and this letters used to sign by the Head of HR.
- After arranging all data and documents of the candidates we call them to join on a particular date.
- Also input information for making medical checkup letter

Pre-employment Medical checkup

It is a very curtail part because the bank authority must have to know whether he/she is able to perform work properly or not or he/she is mentally and physically fit for work if not he can’t be recruited although being highest scorer.

Its cost bared by the bank and medical health checkup is essential for every selected candidate in every position.

Joining

- At the joining date we collect back them with all those joining packs and provide them a copy of appointment letter & offer letter and tell them to come on a certain date to know their posting. Posting is given by another Department and instruct them to go their work location and contact with their supervisor.

This starts when final candidates came at the joining date. We took the joining package back and this should be filled by the candidates and after cross checking all the documents we create an employee file and the file contains the employees name and the date of joining in front of the file and also their academic certificate, copy of National ID card both of them and their nominee and so on.

The joining Package contains

- Top sheet
- ID card requisition from
- Joining letter
- Letter of Declaration
- Salary Fitment
- Appointment letter
- Personal History From
- Terms of Employments
- Insurance From
- Provident Fund
- Other Certificates
- Educational Certificates
- National ID card of the candidate
- National ID card of the candidates nominee
- NID verification
- Medical test documents
- Recruitment memo
- Exam sheet
- CV with photograph
- Requisition from Recruitment
• Declaration
• Affidavit
• Medical money receipt

By combining all these things together one candidate’s joining become successful.

Training is essential for personal and professional development. Training’s aim is to make individuals enable to reach at a satisfactory level to achieve organizational goal.

Categories of training are-

- Internal training
- External training
- Foreign training

Training Process (under L&D division)

The process of providing training to the employees follows some steps-

1. Needs Measurement
2. Obtaining Instructional Objective
3. Designing Training curriculum

4. Implementation Program Strategies

5. Evaluating the whole program

Needs Measurement/Assessment

The need for training could be acknowledged through an analysis of present and future challenges and through a gap between the employee’s real performance and the standard Performance.

The needs measurement can be studied from two perspectives:

- Individual and
- Group

The individual schooling is designed to enhance the individual’s efficiency when not performing effectively.

While the group training is proposed to inculcate the new changes in the employees’ due to change in the organization’s strategy

Obtaining instructional objective

Once the needs are recognized, the objectives for which the training is to be conducted are established.

The objectives could be based on the gap seen in the training programs conducted prior and the skill sets developed by the workers.

Designing the Training Curriculum

The next step is to design the training curriculum in convoy with the set objectives. Every training curriculum covers certain issues such as:

- Identifying the trainer
- Identifying the trainer
- Identify the technique is to be used for the training
- What will be the consequence of the training
• Designing budget for training

Also, the wide-ranging action plan is designed that includes the training content, material, learning theories, instructional design, and the other training prerequisites.

Implementation of Training Strategies

Once the designing of the training curriculum is completed, the next step is to put it into the action. The leading decision that needs to be made is where the training will be conducted either in-house or outside the organization.

Once it is decided, the time for the training is set along with the instructor who will be conducting the training session. Also, the trainees are observed continuously throughout the training program to see if it’s effective and is able to retain the employee’s awareness.

BRAC Bank basically practices both in-house and outside type of training program. If it is an outside training program then the accommodation is provided by the Bank and in case of in-house training program the food (breakfast, lunch, snacks) given to the trainee.

Evaluation

After the training is completed, the employees are asked to grant their feedback on the training session and whether they felt helpful or not.

Throughout feedback, an organization can find out the weak spots if any, and can correct it in the next session. The evaluation of the training program is a necessity because companies invest huge amounts in these sessions and should know it’s effectiveness in terms of money.
Thus, every firm tracks the series of steps to design an effective training program that serves the purpose for which it was anticipated. Sometimes an interview is taken on behalf of L&D to verify whether the training was effective or not.

All these processes are described in a flow chart in the below:

The Learning and Development (L&D) sector has arranged many training programs which is around 778 in number for 17,968 employees (2018). It also has accomplished numerous workshops for the bank’s customer and stakeholders in order to tighten the relationship.

The notable initiatives by L&D over the last year are:-

HIRS is basically a junction of human resources and information technology through HR software. My Job Description

- My Recruitment Process as an intern
- My Responsibilities and duties
4  My Recruitment Process as an intern

This process starts with our joining in CCC (career counseling club) of our university in a running trimester and CCC has sent our CV’s in various organizations.

After some time we got call from BRAC Bank for attending an exam and after the written test we gave an interview.

By a phone call we learnt about our selection and date of joining and we were offered three months of paid internship.

All my recruiting process is not beyond the recruiting process of BBL (BRAC Bank Ltd.).

4.1 My Responsibilities and job description as an intern

As an intern I was given all the freedom to work freely in BRAC Bank HRD. I was given specific tasks every so often which were important for the department. The first half I’m working with the Recruitment wing. Then the subsequently the last half I’ll work with the Training wing so far.

My job description to BRAC Bank HRD is discussed below:

- Communication
  - Giving phone call to candidates for interview

There are some rules of selecting résumés of candidate I’m mentioning those in a brief that is a candidate must have to carry a minimum grade of result and she or he couldn’t get any third class of his student life, work experience is prioritize more and sometimes age is mentioned. So after passing these criterion ones CV could be selected and after selecting those were given to me to call them at their contact number and my duty was to letting them know about their interview time, venue, stuff that should carried with themselves which is one copy passport size picture, certificate’s photocopy and national ID card’s photocopy. And who didn’t response unfortunately they became unaware of it but a candidate ID has been send via sms by the bank authority.

- Giving phone call the candidates for joining
Whoever had passed after the interview session I was requested to inform them by giving a phone call that they have selected and informing them about their joining date, time and venue as well and last but not the list telling them what tools they need to bring at that day that is their picture of course passport size, pictures of their nominee, all academic certificates photocopy and national ID card’s copy.

- Give phone calls for collecting medical letters

Every selected candidate after interview session needs to do a health checkup which is known as a pre-medical and for this a formal letter is sent by the bank authority and requested them to do a free health checkup on a certain diagnostic center so that authority could know if he/she whom they hired is able to fit for work or not. And giving phone call and letting them know that their medical letter is ready was my job. They have to collect the letter from HRD.

- Data entry

It’s very necessary to entry the entire information of the newly hired people on software for the future work like for creating their ID card, pass of bus route if they (employee) asked, for creating employee profile, for creating their salary account, for providing salary-bonuses; incentives, calculating the working days as well as overtime and so on of the Bank’s authority.

From the personal history sheet given by us at the time of joining we get the all information about an employee. We make employee profile of every selected people through interview which carries employee’s name, age, marital status, parent’s name, and spouse name, National ID card number, present and permanent address, contact number, email address, blood group, previous work history, previous working institution and position also duration of working (if experienced). We also need to do enter the employee’s data for making-

- medical letters
- appointment letters
- offer letters

- Documentation or file processing of selected candidates

It is basically a non digital process of collecting personal information of the employees so that if in case the computer server system corrupts bank authority did not to face difficulties and could restore and use for official purpose anytime. This is a simple process

- We attach appointment letter, offer letter and medical report with selected candidate’s personal documents and sometimes attach bond in case of contractual job.

- Listing the candidates name, serial number and board number for next step and store them carefully and also store these in an excel sheet in bank’s computer too.

- Carry out different interviews

Interns do not take interviews directly but they help the interviews in many ways such as-

- Providing personal information from to the candidates: We already know that what is personal history from in that candidates need to provide their name, parents name, spouse name, address present and permanent both, their reference name-relation with them (reference) etc.

- Collecting all documents from candidates: With the personal history sheet we take one copy passport size picture and Xerox of all academic certificates with national ID card’s copy. If someone doesn’t have national ID then we take passport’s copy and attached these all together with stapler.

- Took the interviewee’s to the interview room from lobby: As many candidates came to give interview at that day minimum hundred to one hundred fifty, make sitting arrangement in front of the interview room is impossible so we make a sitting arrangement in the lobby of the office and take ten to fifteen people from lobby to the floor where interview held accordingly.

- Follow some regulations while happening interview till ending the session: By whom and how many personnel will take interview is decided by the HR people before some day of interview, we also book the interview room plus sitting arrangement for them. After beginning the program we send candidates one by one serially.

- Screening CV’s of selected candidates: When the interview ended we are given a score card where we can find the scores of the candidates and could find who are selected. After that we need to find selected candidates CVs, then have to attach their personal history sheet, need to verify national ID card and the process of filing, communicating with candidates for medical letter- joining date etc. repeats.

- Checking the documents of individual file: It is like re-checking the employee file.

  - We cross checking all the candidates personal history from with their given documents which are academic certificates photo copy, NID (National ID card) photocopy, Pay slip, release letters etc.

- Joining of the elected candidates

  - Rechecking the joining package whether the candidates full fill the necessary information like name, joining date, nominee’s name, both of their signature, passport size picture etc.

  - Verifying all their information is correct or not

  - Combine all the papers of the joining package

  - Create individual file of the employee
Besides as an intern we do-

- Create brief profile of candidates
- Giving guard in the different exams
- Evaluating exam script (sometimes)
Chapter 5

Observation

- Critical Observation
- Areas of improvement
5 Observation

BRAC Bank’s culture is very adorable, everybody is very friendly to each other and they also show respect to each other also. Besides these I’ve observed several draw backs which could be improved-

- As I’m Working with recruitment division of HRD, I’ve seen hundreds of people are joining. But the authority couldn’t give enough space or sitting arrangement.

- They are becoming quantitative rather qualitative for achieving individual target and that reason some unqualified people couldn’t survive, over the work pressure efficiency looses.

- Time management is not well maintained sometimes and interviews become delay

- The Bank is recruiting people but they are setting too high targets and that’s why they couldn’t stop or reduce resignation rate.

- Some internal process is lengthy which makes rest of the work slower like maintaining centralization system they need to follow always their superior’s decision

- Tight hierarchy level and it should maintained by every employee like no one can take any immediate decision without the permission of the boss

- Some manual work could become faster by computer like fulfilling personal history from is lengthy and if it could make digitalized by using computer then candidates could fill their personal history from at home and Bank could print out those easily then more time will save.

- Not Sufficient manpower to carry out large sized recruitments. For a small recruitment team the large number of requisition processing has become a challenge recently as the Bank is growing faster than anticipation.

- The rejected CVs are always stored up wherever there is some space in the office.
• In HRD there is no exact place for interns where they can work so they have to roam around and search for vacant desk to do their work. Sometimes all the desks get busy and interns found no space.

• Transportation facilities- only permanent employees can avail them but not applicable for interns

• Salary at 26-28th day of the month- this is also not applicable for interns rather they got salary after one week from starting a new month

• Incentives and bonuses- which only permanent and e-zone employees can enjoy

5.1 Areas of improvement

• Some procedures could make computerized- by online they can provide a personal history sheet so that it could be collected from the candidates before the interview day so that some work will reduce and also the chances of making manual mistakes will reduce.

• The authority could take online exam or brain game rather giving exams physically which could reduce not only bank employees but also examiners time, cost and energy.

• Should assign more manpower- There need more manpower with the ratio of work.

• Should give more facilities to the interns- The facilities what an employee of the bank got and an intern has far difference. Actually an intern does not get any facilities at all from the pick n drop service to snacks items.

• Space for conducting interview, exams and joining of candidates should specific and large enough
• They should look for quality rather quantity in case of selecting/hiring employees - Sometimes for achieving target and incentive they select some unqualified people who couldn’t cope up the work load and fall in depression and lastly kicked out from the organization.

• Should reduce resignation percentage

• Should keep specific space for interns - There is not separate space or desk for interns and for that reason they face difficulties.
